New Storm Building Up in Western U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A giant storm roamed over the western United States today, dumping heavy snow on Colorado and Arizona while rain and snow struck much of the eastern half of the country.
Livestock warnings were in effect for western Nebraska and Kansas. Cold weather and snow harassed New England. Thunderstorms struck from Texas to the Carolinas.
A 6-inch snow fell Wednesday on Colorado's parched eastern plains, a dryland winter wheat area in the grip of a three-year drought. It was the first major precipitation of the winter on the eastern prairies and raised hopes for wheat farmers.

More than 6 inches of snow fell in Denver. Pueblo in southern Colorado had more than 8 inches and several other cities reported 6-inch accumulations.
A 4-inch blanket of snow in Tucson, Ariz., Wednesday was the third heaviest snowfall in history for the winter resort.
Two to four inches of snow fell over southern Wyoming.
The Hastings-Grand Island

area in central Nebraska had 12 to 16 inches of snow on the ground — a blessing for winter wheat.
Snow fell in the higher elevations of northern New Mexico and thunderstorms pounded the eastern section of the state while cold moved in from the West. Two schools were closed on the outskirts of Albuquerque. Twenty-six inches of snow was on the ground at Sandia crest east of Albuquerque.
A treacherous sleet storm closed 200 schools and many business establishments in Minnesota. The Minnesota Highway Department said driving conditions ranged from "deplorable to treacherous."
A bus carrying 20 pupils slid into a ditch in Austin, Minn., but there were no injuries.
Thirty-one inches of snow covered Duluth, Minn., with 15 inches falling in a 24-hour period.
All highways out of Sioux Falls, S.D., were listed as impassable. Rock Rapids, Iowa, was covered by seven inches of snow.

Two Rescued From Rubble

QUI NHON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Sweating and crying American rescue workers pulled two American soldiers alive today from the rubble of a U.S. enlisted man's hotel destroyed by Viet Cong terrorists.

One of the young American survivors was dragged out of a tunnel dug through the debris after a Korean doctor amputated his leg to free him.

Senate Votes For Payment Of School Aid

ST. PAUL (AP) — Over the negative vote of six Twin Cities Liberals, the state Senate Wednesday passed a bill which directs payment of $6.6 million in school aid money withheld by Gov. Karl Rolvaag last fall.
The vote was 57 to 6.
The dissident voters contended the bill is politically motivated. They indicated, too, they believed the measure was aimed at discrediting the governor.
The House is to debate the bill Friday.
When Rolvaag ordered the cut back of funds, he said the move was necessary to avoid a substantial deficit. He also contended that tax estimates were not correct.
State Tax Commissioner Roland Hatfield has said his tax estimates are correct and that money will be available to make the repayment.
In the brief debate preceding the Senate vote, opponents contended a state-wide levy on property will be needed to raise the money to make the $6.6 million payment.
The law provides for such a levy when other sources are insufficient.
Sen. Leo Mosier of Minneapolis called the bill more a political gesture than a school aid bill. Sen. Frank Adams of Minneapolis read a telegram from the Minneapolis School Board saying it did not want the money if it had to be raised by an additional property tax.

Faint cries from the trapped man were heard at 2:30 a.m., about six hours after Viet Cong bombs crumpled the four-story concrete building. The soldier was in the rubble for 18 hours before he was pulled out.
By late today, the toll from the blast was:
One American killed in the hotel when a bomb went off in the hotel bar. Another died later in the hospital. Sixteen Americans were wounded but survived and got out. Four escaped injury, and got out. Twenty-two others, including two believed to be still alive, were buried under the mountain of debris.
The blast also buried 12 Vietnamese house servants working in the hotel. The mangled leg of one could be seen protruding from the rubble.
A family of seven Vietnamese living in a nearby house were all killed.
All the Americans in the hotel were Army enlisted men serving with 140th Maintenance Detachment except for the American killed in the bar. He was a Special Forces man.
Soon after the first cries for help, the cries of three other men in the rubble were heard. One of them was pulled out, leaving two others trapped late today.
One of the heroes of the bloody night killed two of the Viet Cong attackers and survived himself.
Spec. 5 Robert K. Marshall was on the second floor of the building when the attack began. Viet Cong squads poured machine-gun fire into the building. Marshall rushed onto the balcony of the building with his carbine and emptied his magazine at two terrorists firing from a street across the way. After killing both, he rushed back into his room for more ammunition, but the explosion went off at that moment. Marshall was evacuated to Saigon.
Marshall saved himself by diving under his bed when the building collapsed.

Pocketbook Outgrown

One of the things a small boy outgrows first is his dad's pocketbook . . . It's not true that everybody is weary of the recent freezing weather we've been having. We have yet to hear a furrier complaining about it. "Economy" is an interesting word. It's used to describe the large size in soap flakes and the small size in cars . . . We saw an unusual sight on Broadway — a 200-lb. pedestrian getting a ticket for bullying a Volkswagen.

Moonlighting Patrolman's Ouster Upheld

ST. PAUL (AP) — Dismissal of a state highway patrolman who held a second job as a truck driver in violation of patrol regulations was upheld by the Minnesota Supreme Court.
The decision in the case of Richard S. Webster reversed a Ramsey County District Court decision changing his dismissal to a four-month suspension and describing his discharge as arbitrary, unreasonable, capricious and discriminatory.
Webster was dismissed in the fall of 1963 on the specific charge of willfully disobeying rules and regulations of the state highway commissioner.
In appealing his dismissal to the District Court, Webster argued that he faced contempt of court charges for nonsupport unless he obtained additional employment to enhance his income.
He also contended that the commissioner drastically departed from precedent after conceding, with only a period of suspension, offenses Webster claimed were more flagrant and reprehensible than his.
The case came to the Supreme Court on an appeal by the commissioner of highways from the District Court ruling.
"We are inclined to agree with the trial court that on the bare record before us petitioner's discharge was a harsh penalty," said the Supreme Court in a decision written by Associate Justice James Otis.
"However, we do not concur in its conclusion that the dismissal was necessarily discriminatory, unreasonable arbitrary and capricious."
"It is possible that the commissioner found prior disciplinary action to be entirely inadequate, prompting him to take more drastic steps. It can also be argued that many of the offenses for which periods of suspension have been imposed constituted impulsive, unpremeditated behavior, in contrast to the continuing, conscious violation which characterizes the instant case. It may well be that stern measures were long overdue."

Steelmakers are eager to get on with bargaining for a new contract, suspended earlier this year during the bitter campaign. A close election could wind up in a long court fight. The union can strike May 1.
There also was the possibility that an Abel victory would make McDonald a lame-duck president when talks resume. He's said he would continue to negotiate no matter who wins and his four-year term runs to June 1.
The nation's business interests had cause for concern, too, for economists have said uncertainty in steel is the chief threat to continued prosperity in the year ahead.
The latest unofficial tally reported to The Associated Press by USW districts in this country and Canada showed Abel maintaining a shaky lead.
The separate McDonald and Abel headquarters, however, each had their man still ahead.
The latest tally:
AP — Abel 252,234; McDonald 237,760; Locals reporting 2,612.
Abel figures — Abel 180,396; McDonald 141,759; locals reporting 1,599.

Abel Clings To Slim Lead Over McDonald

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Challenger I. W. Abel clung to a slim lead today as the United Steelworkers Union continued the long count in their half-fought election. The key to victory appeared to lie in the big locals, as yet largely unreported.

In the background, steelmakers kept a watchful eye on the returns still hoping for a decisive result in the close struggle between Abel, the big union's secretary-treasurer, and the man on whose right hand he served for 12 years, President David J. McDonald.

Near Collision Before Crash

NEW YORK (AP) — A jet airliner reported a near collision moments before an Eastern Air Lines DCB plane plunged into the Atlantic Ocean killing 84 persons, government investigators said today.
The Federal Aviation Agency said an official recording of radio transmissions Monday night, when the tragedy occurred, showed a Pan American World Airways jetliner reporting "a close miss here."
The transcript indicated that the doomed plane was at 3,700 feet altitude when last reported and the jet was at 3,500 feet.

Negroes Ask U.S. Troops in Selma

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Negroes sought protection of U.S. troops in their civil rights struggle today in the wake of a long forced march by students who had angered Sheriff James G. Clark.
Still more right-to-vote demonstrations were promised today and some of the students said they would lie down on the sidewalk if Clark attempted to drive them away again.
Hundreds of aroused parents waiting to hear a renewed appeal for nonviolence from Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. voted Wednesday night to ask President Johnson to put Selma under martial rule.

Some Opposition To Extending DST in State

ST. PAUL (AP) — Spokesmen for farm organizations, movie theaters, radio stations, the railroad brotherhoods and a number of individual legislators appeared before the Senate General Legislation Committee today to speak against a proposal to extend Minnesota's daylight saving period.
The committee postponed a vote until one week from today.
The bill being considered would adopt Wisconsin daylight saving time dates, April through October. Minnesota now observes fast time from Memorial Day through Labor Day.
Sen. Stanley Holmquist of Grove City, chairman of the committee, said he hoped to dispose of all DST bills next Thursday.
Only other bill now before the unit calls for a statewide referendum on fast time. Sen. Karl Gritter of St. Paul said he planned to submit this week a bill to put Minnesota on record as going along with any federal legislation that may be adopted in this area.

Retaliation for Bombing That Killed 22 Men

BULLETIN
TOKYO (AP) — Radio Hanoi claimed North Vietnamese forces "shot down seven U.S. planes, damaged many others" and captured one American pilot today.
Hanoi identified the captured American as "Robert H. Shumaker, bearing identity card No. 9,131,615."

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Striking from land and sea, about 150 U.S. and South Vietnamese warplanes smashed at targets in North Viet Nam today in reprisal for Viet Cong attacks capped by the blasting of a U.S. billet in Qui Nhon.
Four carrier-based U.S. Navy planes and one pilot were lost as a result of the action, otherwise described by an American spokesman as highly successful.
The bombing and rocket raids were launched while rescue workers still combed debris of the four-story U.S. enlisted men's billet in Qui Nhon for the living and dead of a terrorist bombing Wednesday night believed to have killed 22 Americans.

It was the third and heaviest reprisal since Sunday against North Viet Nam, which trains and supplies the Red guerrillas.
The attacks were made through low, broken clouds.
Targets were officially described as barracks areas at Chan Hoa and Chap Le. They were left wreathed in columns of smoke.

Chan Hoa, is 50 miles north of the border and about four miles northwest of Dong Hoi, a coastal point struck by Navy planes Sunday. Chap Le is 8.5 miles north of the border.
More than 100 Navy jets from the carriers Hancock, Ranger and Coral Sea hit the barracks area at Chan Hoa.
Chap Le was the target of 22 Vietnamese fighter-bombers, which struck across the 17th Parallel under escort of 20 U.S. Air Force F100 jet fighters. The escorts' job was to suppress anti-aircraft fire.
All the land-based craft returned safely.
Of the four Navy planes lost, three went down at sea and one was smashed when its landing gear collapsed as it was at templing to put down at Dan Nang, an air base 80 miles south of the border. The pilots of three survived. The pilot of an F8D Crusader jet disappeared with his plane.

The returning pilots reported heavy fires in one area and moderate fires in two other areas. Communist anti-aircraft fire ranged from heavy to light and moderate, the spokesman said.
This happened at 1 a.m. EST. Two hours later, U.S. and South Vietnamese air force planes struck at another area called Chap Le, just above the 17th parallel.
This, too, was described as a barracks area, and is near a center of Communist infiltration preparations called Vinh Linh.

Results there were successful, the spokesman said, stressing that these were preliminary reports.
The barracks areas were described as containing training, supply, maintenance, and other facilities, in addition to troop housing.
The Pentagon announcement followed up a White House statement which had told only of U.S. "air elements" joining in the new strikes and named the targets as "military facilities in North Viet Nam used by Hanoi for the training and infiltration of Viet Cong personnel into South Viet Nam."

The White House statement issued by press secretary George E. Reedy, said the strikes were "in response to further direct provocation by the Hanoi regime."

Farm Equipment Status Questioned

Plaintiff's attorney William A. Lindquist counterattacked this morning in District Court as he began cross-examination of defendant's witness William R. McPhail, Lewiston, in the Bohr-King Gas case.

V. A. Bohr, Scottsdale, Ariz., alleges that fertilizer equipment leased by him to King Gas & Fertilizer Co., Lewiston, in 1959 was not properly maintained. The result, he alleges, was that his equipment was returned with substantially less value than it should have had at the end of the five-year agreement.

LINDQUIST questioned McPhail about King Gas' maintenance of the Bohr equipment during the period of the lease.

McPhail testified that King Gas had made major repairs to the Bohr equipment to get it in shape for the 1960 fertilizer season. He said that his company maintained the equipment in good working order during the 1951-63 seasons as well. McPhail was King Gas manager at Lewiston during those years.

Lindquist asked McPhail why the equipment isn't now in good condition if it was maintained in good order through 1963. McPhail said he couldn't answer yes or no to the question.

LINDQUIST asked whether McPhail agreed that the fertilizer tank trailers are not now in good condition. McPhail said he couldn't answer yes or no. Lindquist asked why, and the Lewiston man answered that he couldn't say yes or no because the equipment has not been used since 1963 and standing equipment will often "freeze."

"Isn't it your defense that this equipment was junk when you received it and that you returned it in the same condition or maybe a little better?" Lindquist asked. McPhail said the equipment was returned in better condition.

Lindquist referred to invoices for fertilizer equipment parts that McPhail testified were used to repair the Bohr equipment for the fertilizer season of 1960.

He read off the dates the equipment was received, which ranged from April 19 to July 3, 1960, and asked how the parts listed could have been used to put the equipment in shape for operation when he had previously said the fertilizer season started around May 1 and ended about July 1.

MCPHAIL said he had only just gotten the equipment ready in time and that the major part of the fertilizer season did not begin till after May 1.

Lindquist introduced in evidence a compressor hose that Bohr had listed as among equipment not returned to him by King Gas. McPhail testified that he returned the hose to Bohr Tuesday. It had been in storage in the Skelly Oil warehouse at Rochester, McPhail said. (Skelly bought out King Gas in 1963.)

Floyd Olson, 561 Zumbro St., was called out of turn to testify for the defendant. He testified that he had moved an 8,000-gallon hopper to Bohr's Chester, Minn., plant in 1958 or so and that he later moved it to Kellogg, Minn., for King Gas.

OLSON SAID he noticed no dent in the hopper when he first moved it, but he said that he did see a large dent when he moved the hopper to Kellogg in 1960 or 1961. Bohr had complained about the dent.

The last part of McPhail's testimony on direct examination by defendant's attorney William E. Crowder had to do with invoices for fertilizer equipment parts which were introduced in evidence today.

Judge Arnold Hatfield refused similar exhibits in evidence Wednesday afternoon because they included some invoices for propane gas equipment. Crowder and McPhail separated the fertilizer invoices overnight.

Judge Hatfield allowed the exhibits in today only to show that equipment which could have been used for repairs was bought by King Gas.

WEDNESDAY afternoon saw the defendant's case take shape, in direct opposition to Bohr's testimony.

McPhail positively stated that substantial repairs had been necessary to put Bohr's fertilizer equipment in shape for use by King Gas. Bohr had testified that his equipment was turned over in "good working order."

The former King Gas employee went on to say, "I believe they (fertilizer equipment) were in better condition when returned to Bohr Jan. 1, 1955, than when King Gas leased them Jan. 1, 1960."

The basis of Bohr's claim is the allegation that King Gas did not live up to the lease, which provided that the equipment would be returned in the same order and repair in which it was left by Bohr, excepting deterioration due to "reasonable wear and tear."

ATTORNEY Crowder attempted to introduce documentary evidence purporting to back up McPhail's testimony concerning substantial repairs made in 1960.

The documents were business records of King Gas for the year 1960 and consisted of invoices for parts, grease and paint along with canceled checks. McPhail testified that these were used in the repairs he had said were necessary to Bohr's equipment before it could be used by King Gas.

However, Judge Hatfield rejected a number of these exhibits in agreement with the objections of Attorney Lindquist.

An exhibit dated March 29, 1960, and covering items totaling $430 in value was rejected on grounds the only item used for repair was $2 worth of grease. Judge Hatfield ruled that the exhibit would only be confusing; however, he allowed McPhail's testimony concerning the purchase of the grease for repair purposes to remain in the record.

A SUBSEQUENT exhibit dated April 29, 1960, and listing six pressure gauges and four valves to a total of $140 was received in evidence. McPhail told the court that all these items were used as replacements on Bohr's equipment.

Judge Hatfield refused the next exhibit on the ground that its date, July 6, 1960, showed that it could not possibly have been used for repairs in preparation for the 1960 fertilizer season, as maintained by McPhail.

Furthermore, McPhail had testified that perhaps 60 percent of the $400 worth of paint listed had been used to paint Bohr's fertilizer tanks. Later he acknowledged that only about 30 fertilizer tanks had been painted, compared to around 400 King Gas propane tanks.

About half of the exhibits offered Monday afternoon were received in evidence, with testimony concerning parts of the rejected exhibits also allowed.

McPhail closed the day's testimony with the observation that a compressor displayed in the courtroom was "the worst one they had down there." He said that King Gas had put new engines on a number of the compressors returned to Bohr.

CLU Elects Foster for Another Term

James Foster was elected to his third one-year term as president of the Winona Central Labor Union at the group's meeting Wednesday.

New vice president of the group is Brendan Lee, who replaces Mrs. Lillian Sula. Mark Cysewski was elected to his fourth term as financial secretary, and Robert Lindner, to his fifth term as recording secretary.

Ronald Boland was elected sergeant-at-arms, replacing Herbert Schladinski. Re-elected to a three-year term as trustee was Gay Wendt.

Neil C. Sherburne, secretary-treasurer of the state AFL-CIO federation, discussed legislation to come before the current session of the state legislature.

In speaking of Gov. Karl Rolvaag's new budget, Sherburne pointed out that 91 percent of additional tax money is to go toward education and mental health.

He said that a poor mental health program currently costs each resident of the state $3. A good system would cost $3.50 a person, he contended.

Lappegaard to Get State Corrections Job

ST. PAUL (AP) — Ray Lappegaard will be appointed Minnesota corrections commissioner Feb. 22, succeeding Will C. Turnbladh who will remain in the department.

Turnbladh will take a pay cut of $5,644 a year. He will be a supervisor of prevention, probation and parole at a salary of $11,856, it was learned.

The governor's office said Turnbladh had asked to remain in the department.

Gov. Karl Rolvaag said last week that Lappegaard, 42, would be appointed to the $17,500 a year commissioner's job.

Turnbladh, 54, was reported to have asked to be relieved of administrative duties. The Corrections Department supervises all state penal institutions.

Lappegaard headed the department when it was under the state Welfare Department. Turnbladh had been commissioner since 1959.

Scouts Keep Camping Date

PINE CITY, Minn. (AP) — Comes snow or sleet, Boy Scouts keep their camping schedules.

Hence, while snow swirled, sleet rattled down and the wind howled, two members of the Pine City Explorer post No. 188 slept in their sleeping bags in a tent in Wiseman Park here Tuesday night.

The 35 members of the post, in observance of National Boy Scout week, are taking turns sleeping in the park. Last night was the appointed time for Chuck Salomek and Mickey Pearce, Pine City high school seniors, and they kept it.

Before they holed up for the night in their straw-floored tent they served supper to several guests—cooking venison steaks, corn and potatoes and making coffee on an open fire in the snow and sleet storm.

Blizzard Possible Tonight

Near-blizzard conditions predicted for Winona and vicinity tonight may make residents here forget the hardships of Tuesday's sleet storm, the weatherman said today.

Snow is predicted for Southern Minnesota accompanied by strong northerly winds.

Decreasing snow is the forecast for Friday. A low of 8 to 15 above is seen for tonight and a high of only 8 to 18 for Friday.

The temperature rose to 33 Wednesday, dropped to 9 overnight and was 12 at noon today.

CITY SANDING crews had completed the first round of sanding operations and most intersections had been covered. Some sidewalks and walks still were slippery as were steps and driveways.

A year ago today the Winona high was 33 and the low 9. All-time high for Feb. 11 was 60 in 1882 and the low for the day —24 in 1899. Mean for the past 24 hours was 21. Normal for this time of the year is 18.

Cold weather prevailed in northern Minnesota where Bemidji reported —15 and International Falls —14. It was —8 in St. Cloud and —6 at Duluth.

Rochester had a high of 34 Wednesday and a low of 6 this morning, while at La Crosse figures of 36 and 11 for the same times were reported.

A major winter storm was advancing through the Plains states today and WISCONSIN was due to get its share of snow.

The Weather Bureau at Milwaukee said snow would start falling in the southern part of the state late today or tonight and spread northward during the night, continuing Friday.

Far northern Wisconsin, which is still digging out from the heavy snow of Tuesday night, recorded frigid weather early today. The Duluth-Superior region had 6 below zero and Park Falls reported zero. Eau Claire had 3 above, Wausau 10, La Crosse 11, Lone Rock 22, Milwaukee 23, Madison, Beloit and Green Bay 24.

Temperatures were mild throughout Wisconsin Wednesday, with highs ranging from 45 at Milwaukee and Racine to 26 at Superior.

At mid-morning today, temperatures ranged from 4 below zero at Ashland to 29 at Milwaukee.

CLEWISTON, Fla., set the high of 86 Wednesday, compared with the low of 16 below early today at Bismarck, S. D.

Winonan Won't Testify in South; Two Forfeit Bonds

With the failure of the last two defendants to appear in court, the need for a Winona nurse to testify in a Hattiesburg, Miss., assault trial ended.

Miss Phyllis Cunningham told her mother in a telephone conversation Wednesday night that the last two of the three defendants in the case forfeited bond last Thursday, and the case was concluded without any testimony being necessary.

MISS CUNNINGHAM was one of eight civil rights workers that were in a group when four of its members were attacked by the defendants. All eight were to appear as witnesses for the prosecution.

The witnesses had been threatened with violent reprisals if they testified, however.

Miss Cunningham told her mother that she, other civil rights workers and Hattiesburg area Negroes had been in court the last three days for depositions of testimony that will be used to support the case of the Freedom Democratic Party in Washington, D.C., hearings later this month.

The FDP, a largely-Negro group, is contending that Mississippi congressmen chosen in the last election do not represent the people of the state because a large segment of its population — its Negroes — were not allowed to vote.

Testimony is now being gathered throughout the state to support this contention. Opportunity is also being given for the FDP's opponents to submit testimony.

MISS CUNNINGHAM said that one of the three attorneys counseling her group during the deposition is James Lamberton, son of Mrs. Gretchen Lamberton. Lamberton, an attorney, has been working with civil rights groups in the South periodically since last summer.

Miss Cunningham, 25, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cunningham, 635 W. Broadway. A graduate of the College of Saint Teresa, she has been working with the Council of Federated Organizations, a civil rights coordinating agency, since last summer.

Ice Claims Another Victim

Slick ice claimed another injury victim Wednesday afternoon.

An ambulance was called for Mrs. Nielsen, who was in pain and unable to get up. She is resting today in Community Memorial Hospital where X-rays are being examined for a possible hip fracture.

Mrs. Nielsen is listed in satisfactory condition by hospital officials.

Oil Tank Leaks On West Second

Oil leaking from a rusty storage tank at Markle Oil Co., 374 W. 2nd St., brought a company of firemen out this morning to stand by.

However, the leaked oil — a "small amount" according to firemen — was pumped into a transport and the remainder soaked up by sand without incident.

Firemen received the call at 8:41 a.m. They arrived to find oil spread into the street from a rupture in a rusty storage tank.

NEW TRAFFIC SURVEY

Broadway and 5th Busiest Streets

By FRANK UHLIG
Daily News Staff Writer

Broadway, with four traffic lanes, is the city's busiest street, followed closely by 5th Street, a two-lane artery which seems to help equalize the cross-town load.

These are some of the conclusions gained from an annual survey of state-aid streets by the city engineer's office. Figures, submitted to the state Department of Highways, help determine the annual apportionment of gasoline tax revenues to the city. They were obtained from traffic counts at 123 locations in the past year.

WHEN A street's traffic volume reaches 5,000 vehicles a day it should become a four-lane route, according to present engineering criteria. This rate already is surpassed on some of the city's two-lane thoroughfares, notably 5th Street and Gilmore Avenue.

The average daily flow for Broadway at Huff Street, a major intersection, was 8,409 vehicles, studies showed. At the western end of Broadway, two lanes wide, the flow was 5,770. From that point, Junction Street, to the city's center, the figures grow sharply: 6,135 at S. Baker Street, 8,518 at Olmsted Street (four lanes), dwindling slightly at Huff Street to 8,409, 7,751 at Main Street, 6,380 at Franklin Street, 5,590 at Hamilton Street.

Substantial east-west traffic was recorded on 5th Street, beginning with a buildup at Junction Street of 4,294, increasing to 6,837 at Huff Street. Considerable turning traffic is indicated here, since the figure for the east side of the intersection is 1,209 fewer at 5,528. At Main Street, the figures are 4,433 for the west side of the intersection and 3,347 on the east, a difference of 1,086.

THE FIGURES also give a partial answer to the eternal riddle of which streets are to have priority in maintenance, upgrading and widening plans in coming years. Engineers also use the figures to determine the load-bearing capacity to build into the roadways.

Variables still persist, any of which can turn the 20-year projections slightly askew. Present patterns of traffic flow are based on existing conditions. If engineers had only to take estimated automobile numbers and population figures into account, with most other factors remaining the same, the problem would be far less complicated.

At least two such variables will begin making their imprints on statistical totals this year. How much will the closure of Swift & Co.'s plant affect Mankato Avenue traffic? What is the future of Gilmore Avenue traffic, where a new shopping center will open this year and which apparently is to see a new high school built nearby within two years?

THE FARTHER engineers try to look into the future the more murky the view becomes. Will a heavy majority of motorists still head for present downtown areas, 10 or 20 years from now, or will new centers of activity appear to act as traffic magnets? Present routing of Highways 61-14 seems to be relatively permanent. The future status of Highway 43, which threads an erratic course through the city, is not now known by mortal men.

City traffic will double and possibly treble in the next 20 years, engineers predict. Population projections for the urban area place the number of residents at 37,000 by 1980. Annual output of 10 million new cars a year is not far ahead. These factors bear heavily on the forecasts of engineers trying to anticipate the needs of two decades hence.

Gilmore Avenue, probably the next municipally maintained street to be modernized, is heavily traveled from Highway 63 east to S. Baker Street. No figures were available for the segment west of the junction since that is the present route of U.S. Highway 14 and is not city-maintained.

GILMORE, TOO, qualifies for consideration as a four-lane route and future traffic, according to the most conservative estimates, will be far heavier than now. At Highway 61, the rate is 4,492 vehicles, at Clark's Lane, 5,947, at Cummings (a through-city truck route) 5,869, and at Baker, 5,385.

Mankato Avenue, now being widened to four lanes, meets the criterion. At Sarnia Street, its flow was 5,168, at Broadway 6,441, and at 3rd Street 4,379.

Showing up as another major thoroughfare is 3rd Street, with flow rates ranging from 5,171 at Hamilton Street to 6,539 at Main Street.

Voice of the Outdoors

Hungry Bird

This chickadee that came sailing in and settled on the finger of Gordon Baab, 1113 W. 5th St., as he stocked a feeder Wednesday morning, probably is the best symbol that we can use today to urge prompt action toward "feeding the birds." The natural supply of food on the ground and on the stems of plants was well sealed beneath a strong coating of ice from the rain that froze as it fell.

Food in feeders put in after the thaw is pretty frozen. It takes a strong bird like a bluejay or starling to chop the grain loose. So, feeders should be checked to loosen the food placed before the rain. Feed on the ground such as grass seed, bent and frozen weeds, and waste

In the fields is locked up from ground feeding birds.

Ken K. Krumm, bird man of the Wildlife Refuge, expressed fear today that quail and grouse that may have burrowed into snow banks for protection and heat at night, may have sealed themselves in burial vaults. The rain covered the banks with ice and they cannot break out. A person could walk on the remaining snow banks Wednesday without breaking through the crust.

A few slices of bread thrown out on the back sidewalk or in yard will be welcomed by yard birds. A neighbor, who broke up a whole loaf of dry bread Wednesday morning and threw it to the birds, had a whole flock of hungry birds of nearly every wintering species fighting for the food in a few minutes. The sparrows got most of it while the others, mainly starling, fought for the bread.

Heavy Winter Kill
"It has been a rough winter," Darby Reed writes from Bismarck, N.D. "All the pheasants in western North Dakota are dead. A real cold night will clean out 50 percent of our deer herd."

The snowfall has been heavy, he adds, and flood conditions will prevail in the spring. Lots of water for ducks. He and his family spent the Christmas holidays in Mexico, and Darby and his wife left Feb. 9 for three weeks in Hawaii where he will hunt boar.

Teal Season

Discussion on the proposed teal season is in order whenever a few duck hunters get together. It would appear that probably at least half of the hunters are against the proposal. Here is a note from Ralph G. Boalt, veteran Winona waterfowl and upland hunter, who would like to try it:

"Do not know what harm a nine-day teal season would do to our locally hatched ducks but I believe it is worth risking as the local ducks have already established their feeding pattern."

"As regards identification, if the hunter is not too gun happy, teal are easy to identify from a distance or when decoying. Snap shots at a low flying duck over cattail or cover would have to be passed up as these would be impossible to identify even if they might be teal."

Trout Contest

The average weight of the 15 prize winning trout caught in the Elk Rod and Gun Club trout fishing contest on Bugle Lake at Independence, Wis., last Sunday was about a pound and a half. One hundred and fifty of the planted fish were on the board. The attendance at the event was placed at 4,000. The planting just before the contest last week was 800 fishable size fish purchased from a commercial hatchery. They are still catching 'em.

Math Teacher At St. Charles Urged for Honor

ST. CHARLES, Minn. (Special)—A mathematics instructor here more than 10 years has been named teacher of the year by the St. Charles Teachers Association.

Herman Weis will be a candidate for Minnesota Teacher of the Year, who will be named just prior to Teaching Career Month, which is April. The state honor is sponsored by the Minnesota Education Association, the state Congress of Parents and Teachers and the Minneapolis Downtown Council.

In addition to selecting one teacher from those nominated by affiliated groups throughout the state, an honor roll of outstanding teachers is selected. Last year Joseph Karakas, St. Charles, was placed on the roll.

Weis introduced modern mathematics here six years ago, giving St. Charles High School the distinction of being one of the first schools in the state to adopt the course. As a result, a number of students have chosen mathematics or related subjects for careers in teaching or industry. His colleagues call him "a teacher's teacher."

Lincoln's Fame Rests

On An Idea

SEVEN SCORE AND 16 years ago Friday a child was born in a Kentucky log cabin who became one of the greatest leaders the world has produced. Abraham Lincoln's fame does not rest on leadership in war, although that leadership was wise, courageous and compassionate. He became the symbol of the American dream of freedom and justice for all. Lincoln's fame rests on an idea.

His ravaged face, his untidy suit of black broadcloth, became a part of this image of the man of sorrows, the man of homely philosophy bearing the burden of humanity. As his great biographer Carl Sandburg said, Lincoln foreshadowed something. "The people took him as a new figure of hope for them. This hope ranged around wider freedom, political and economic, for the common man."

ON THIS BIRTHDAY—and an important one, being the 158th—the natural question is how Old Abe would stack up today. The world has changed from the simplicities of the 1860s. But no one can read the words of Lincoln without feeling that what he stood for is more needed today than ever before.

When nuclear fission and mechanical brains and rockets shot past the moon into unimaginable space seem to reduce man to the status of a button pusher, it is more important than ever to assert the dignity of the human mind and the immortality of the human soul. That is what Lincoln did so often and so well.

Lincoln, were he living today, would be just as great. For in his own words he disclosed that he had the capacity to grow; that the future, not the past, is the direction in which mankind must face.

"THE DOGMAS of the quiet past are inadequate to the stormy present," he said in words that ring today as a bell. "We must think anew and act anew. We must disenthrall ourselves."

Attitudes on Taxes Have Changed

GIVEN A CHOICE between raising the sales tax, the income tax or the property tax as a source of more money, Iowans generally would favor a higher levy on sales.

This gradually has shown up in polls over the years, the most recent conducted by State Rep. David Stanley of Muscatine.

The results are indicative of steadily rising incomes and the already heavy loads being assessed on property and wages. Many people are finding it less painful to pay a few cents tax on each retail purchase than to dip up large dump-sum payments.

In other states where there is no sales tax, pressure for such a levy now is mounting. Nobody wants it, of course, but it is being considered the lesser of the three evils.

Minnesota legislators will find the sales tax a key issue. So will those in states with the largest wage-earning populations.

NEW YORK, NEW JERSEY and Massachusetts, not to mention Idaho, are leaning in this direction. They are among the 13 states which have held out against it.

Gov. John Volpe of Massachusetts credits his firm stand in favor of a sales tax as being a major factor in his re-election. Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York still is considering it to close a $500 million gap in his budget.

Idaho lawmakers see a right-off-the-bat three percent sales tax as inevitable. New Jersey is expected to follow suit.

Since World War II, 14 states have approved a sales tax while only two went instead to the income tax.

The sales tax long has been an issue in the Iowa Legislature. It has been the subject of heated debate in gubernatorial campaigns and qualified men have lost out because of their stand in favor of increasing it.

BUT TIMES HAVE changed . . . and so have attitudes on taxes. — Mason City Globe Gazette.

The office cynic, a confirmed punster, remarks that after being beaten by Goldwater with a Burch switch, the Republicans are now experiencing Bliss.

The righteous also shall hold on his way, and he that hath clean hands shall be stronger and stronger. — Job 17:3.

TODAY IN WORLD AFFAIRS

'Cold War' Getting Hotter

By DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON — The "cold war" is getting hotter. Yet the Western Allies are in disarray while Red China and the Soviet Union are lined up on the same side against the United States. There is apparently under way a determined effort to force the 22,000 American troops out of South Viet Nam.

The North Viet Nam government — with arms supplied by the Communists — has just made two attacks in South Viet Nam against U. S. installations. Seven Americans were killed and 109 were wounded in the most costly assault against American troops in the Viet Nam war. The prompt retaliation by the United States and South Viet Nam in ordering bombing raids against North Viet Nam is an indication that the United States is not going to be frightened into a withdrawal.

All this happened at the very time that Soviet Premier Kosygin, conferring in Hanoi with the North Viet Nam government, was offering not merely economic help but more military aid directly related to air operations.

INTERNAL DISTURBANCES, moreover, have been instigated by the Red Chinese in Laos and Thailand.

President Johnson is trying very hard to avoid doing anything that could bring about an "escalation" toward a major conflict. But the situation is building up to the point where the United States may not be able to remain passive much longer or to limit its operations to mere reprisals.

There is speculation of all kinds here as to what the Soviet purpose is in offering military aid to North Viet Nam at this particular time. Some wishful thinkers express the belief that perhaps Russia wants to get into the situation sufficiently to exercise some kind of neutralizing influence. But the Moscow government is not interested in pulling American chestnuts out of the fire. It seeks only to add to the complications that will mean more troubles for the United States government.

WHILE RED CHINA and the Soviet Union are at loggerheads on ideological questions, there can be little doubt that they have a common purpose in trying to get the United States out of Asia.

President Johnson has displayed a great deal of caution in recent weeks in dealing with the Viet Nam situation and with international politics generally. The impression prevails here that he wants to feel his way. This may explain a certain deliberateness in his official behavior. He is said to prefer to take his time about any new moves in Southeast Asia until Soviet intentions in Viet Nam are clarified.

For the moment, there is a mistaken tendency in some quarters in Washington to assume that one of the courses under consideration might well be American withdrawal from South Viet Nam altogether. But the majority sentiment in Congress is opposed to this. Such a step would certainly be construed as a form of retreat or surrender. Within the last two days the President, with the advice of the National Security Council, has sought, by taking decisive steps in Viet Nam, to remove any possible thought by the Communists that they can continue their aggression without a serious challenge by the United States.

CONCURRENTLY, President De Gaulle has muddied the waters by elevating the Red China government to a position equal to that of Great Britain, France, the Soviet Union and the United States when he suggests that these five countries can settle the problem of how the United Nations shall hereafter be operated. For the Peiping government has been denounced by resolution of the U. N. as an aggressor in Korea — a still unsettled problem. Red China has, moreover, carried on a warfare in Southeast Asia which not only has threatened the peace of the continent but has taken away from smaller countries their freedom and their independence.

In the long run, the United States will have to make a deliberate effort to strengthen the Western Alliance. There will have to be some serious talks with Gen. De Gaulle behind the scenes. Also, the advice given him on the importance of bringing about a strong Western Alliance need not come solely from the United States. For the British and the West Germans are well aware of the serious consequences that could flow from a disintegration of the Western Alliance.

IF, HOWEVER, THE West should allow the "cold war" to drift into a "hot war," there would be little opportunity at a later date to deal with the emergency except by a military action in Southeast Asia far beyond the desire of the United States at the time to initiate.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Move Toward Nuclear War May Be Difficult to Stop

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — There was one recent piece of Far Eastern news, now generally forgotten, which probably was more important than our bombing of North Viet Nam. It was word that Indonesia is developing its own atomic bomb.

Though discounted in the West, there is no use kidding ourselves about the prospect that every Far Eastern country can eventually pile up its own nuclear arsenal — because Red China will help them do it.

In fact, the Chinese are now reported doing two things which may influence history for years to come:

1. Pushing for an Asian-African United Nations to woo delegates of these countries away from the now sterile U. N. in New York.

2. Promising — or actually giving — their secret of the atom to the small, pro-Chinese countries around the perimeter of Asia.

If this proliferation of thermonuclear military capacity — the official phrase for passing out a-bombs to a lot of people — does take place in the Far and Middle East, the consequences to future American generations could be devastating.

IF INDONESIA, for instance, gets an arsenal of Chinese nuclear weapons and starts using them against Malaysia, it means war in the entire Pacific, probably also in the rest of the world.

If Pakistan, an ally on which we have spent billions, now gets the A-bomb from her new ally, China, there is nothing to prevent her from using it against the 400,000,000 people of India.

Or if the Sultan of Sulu got the A-bomb from Red China, there is little to prevent him from using it against the Philippines; or if Ho Chi Min of North Viet Nam wanted to turn the tables on us, he could start nuclear war in the Indo-Chinese peninsula.

Any one of these could, and almost certainly would, expand into world war.

THUS, A tight control of nuclear weapons should be the No. 1 goal of the United States today. It is more important than anti-poverty, laudatory as that is. It is more important than aid to education, vital as that is.

Because schools and improved communities and better homes will not be around after the next nuclear war.

And it is far more important than rescuing the policies inherited from John Foster Dulles and Dwight D. Eisenhower which have got us bogged down in the pockets and rice paddies of Indochina where a magnificent French army fought for eight years with our money financing it, only to face eventual defeat.

Meanwhile we have let the United Nations stagnate and deteriorate at a time when that organization is more important in preventing war than at any other period.

Meanwhile time is running out. Foreign affairs do not wait for the convenience of man, and today time is running out much faster than we think.

ONE OF the most significant points reported to have been made in the National Security Council meeting which decided to bomb North Viet Nam was that Communist retaliation against us was less likely because Premier Kosygin was in Hanoi.

To bomb North Viet Nam while Kosygin was calling on Ho Chi Min in Hanoi was comparable to a Russian bombing of Cyprus while President Johnson was in Cyprus calling on President Makarios. In the latter case many Americans would have demanded war.

In Hanoi, on the contrary, some experts on the Security Council argued that Kosygin's presence meant less likelihood of retaliatory attacks, less risk of war.

This may have been a miscalculation, but there was one important reason for it. We know that the Russians understand the danger of nuclear war and want to avoid it at all costs. We know that since the signing of the test ban pact they have kept faith regarding nuclear tests.

THEREFORE, IF the recent Viet Nam crisis hasn't soured relations too much, the greatest opportunity to stop the spread of nuclear weapons today lies with the Soviet government. While the Soviet hasn't too much influence with the Red Chinese, it has some. The socialist bloc countries have even more.

It would be worth a compromise on the United Nations, worth also a Russian guarantee of neutrality for South Viet Nam, to get an agreement to stop the spread of nuclear arms.

Bill to Ask Mankato State Be University

ST. PAUL (AP) — Mankato State College would become Minnesota State University under a bill to be introduced today in the state legislature.

The bill is sponsored jointly by Sens. Val Imm, Mankato; Walter Franz, Mountain Lake, and Michael Mc Guire, Montgomery; and Reps. Roy Schulz of Mankato; Lyle Farmer, St. Paul; C. A. Johnson, Mankato; B. F. Dubois, Sauk Centre, and Leonard Dickinson, Bemidji. Imm and Schulz originated the bill.

This bill would establish Minnesota State University as successor to Mankato State College, but keep operation and management under the State College Board.

The new university would be empowered to award advanced degrees in such fields as education, history, biology and engineering, but not law, medicine, dentistry, agriculture and veterinary medicine. Sponsors said these fields were excluded to avoid duplication of expensive departments well established at the University of Minnesota.

Kosygin Visits In North Korea

TOKYO (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin flew to North Korea today from Peking after talking with Communist China's Mao Tse-tung. It was their first meeting since Kosygin became premier.

A New China News Agency broadcast said they met at a reception Wednesday night which was attended by Premier Chou En-lai, President Liu Shao-chi, Foreign Minister Chen Yi and other top officials.

No details of their discussion were disclosed.

Kosygin stopped overnight in Peking en route home from a four-day visit to North Vietnam. While in Hanoi, he promised the North Vietnamese military aid.

St. Louis Park Home Wrecked

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — An explosion wrecked a suburban St. Louis Park home Tuesday night and injured the lone occupant of the dwelling.

Felix Elksnits, 54, was taken to a Minneapolis hospital suffering burns and cuts on his legs and hands. His condition was listed as fair.

The roof of Elksnits' one-story home caved in and the walls collapsed.

An explosion Tuesday night also damaged the Norbert W. Grabe home in Roseville, a St. Paul suburb. The causes of the blasts are being investigated.

Ringo Marries English Girl

LONDON (AP) — Ringo Starr, the Beatles' drummer, married 18-year-old Maureen Cox today. Ringo is 24.

A spokesman said the parents of both Ringo and his bride were present for the civil ceremony at the London's Caxton Hall registry office.

Ringo and Maureen were married at 8:15 a.m. After the ceremony they left London for a short honeymoon at an undisclosed place. The spokesman said Ringo had to be back in London Monday for movie work.

Floods in Fiji After Hurricane

SUVA, Fiji (AP) — Fiji is grappling with widespread floods after a hurricane which devastated villages and flattened copra and banana plantations.

The floods followed a torrential rain. In one area near Suva, the rain measured 31 inches in 24 hours.

An unknown number of persons have been swept away in the raging torrent of the River Rewa, largest river in Fiji.

Senate Confirms Katzenbach as Attorney General

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate confirmed by voice vote Wednesday President Johnson's nomination of Nicholas Katzenbach to be attorney general.

With a few senators on the floor—and with no debate—the nomination was approved. Only Sens. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, and John Stennis, D-Miss., voted "No."

The action was taken with Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., presiding temporarily. Katzenbach was deputy attorney general under Kennedy, and served as acting attorney general after Kennedy resigned to run for the Senate.

The Senate also confirmed the nomination of Ramsey Clark of Texas to be deputy attorney general. He is the son of Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark. Clark has been an assistant attorney general.

Strike Hard, Clark Urges

NEW YORK (AP) — Retired Gen. Mark W. Clark says the United States should resort to quick retaliatory strikes against Communist North Viet Nam and "slaughter the hell out of them for a long time."

Clark, 68, a World War II hero and the last U.S. commander in the Korean action, offered his comments on the Viet Nam conflict Wednesday night in a speech to a veterans dinner.

"In Korea, our hands were tied behind our backs," said Clark. "We should have worn with our great air and naval support. If we had won, we would not find ourselves in the position we are in tonight."

Clark spoke to the 25th anniversary dinner of the Veterans of the 7th Regiment. "You can't do business with the Commies except by force, and with no appeasement whatsoever," he said.

Preston Commission Buys Service Truck

PRESTON, Minn. (Special)—Bids were opened Wednesday night by the public works commission of Preston for the purchase of a new six-cylinder service truck.

On recommendation of Chuck Utley, superintendent of the utility, the low bid of Gunderson Motors, Preston and Fountain, was accepted. Gunderson bid $1,577.25 with trade-in of a 1949 half-ton truck.

Other bidders were Harmony Truck Service, $1,595, and Sether Chevrolet Co., Preston, $1,602.02.

The truck will be paid for out of the commission's general fund. Henry Brand, Thomas Kilbury and Keith Gartner are commission members.

Badger Assembly Passes Bill on State Amendment

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The Assembly passed a proposed constitutional amendment Tuesday that would give the governor the power to make changes in the state government through administrative orders.

Repeated efforts by Republicans to wlay the proposal failed.

The resolution, approved 56-43, provides that the governor could reorganize administrative agencies by executive order. However, the order would not become effective unless the Legislature had 60 days to consider it and possibly veto it.

Action on the proposal came only after several Republican attempts to postpone it. Both their motions to table the resolution and then to reconsider it at a later time were defeated by the Democrats, who hold a four-vote edge.

Republicans attacked the measure as one that would cause "pandemonium" and permit the chief executive to take away duties that belong to the Legislature.

Legislative leaders of both parties begin a series of meetings today with Gov. Warren P. Knowles in an effort to reach some kind of agreement on a tax bill.

Knowles is hoping the bipartisan meetings will avoid a legislative stalemate between the parties over the tax proposal, which will ask for an additional $110 million needed to balance the governor's budget. The proposed budget for the 1965-67 biennium is a record $832.8 million.

Navy Flier Saves Jet

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Two Navy fliers and their jet are safe because of a lucky rescue and a nifty landing.

One of an F4B's two engines failed over the Atlantic 40 miles off Key West Tuesday and its two-man crew held quick counsel.

They decided the navigator, Ens. Don Ulrich of Harrisburg, Pa., would parachute and the pilot, Cmdr. E. Royce Williams, of Clinton, Minn., and Virginia Beach, Va., would try to bring the crippled craft back to Boca Chica Naval Air Station, Key West.

A Homestead Air Force Base rescue helicopter heard radio chatter and within three minutes after Ulrich parachuted into the sea from 300 feet he was dangling unhurt in a rescue sling, lowered by the copter.

Williams, with his altitude shrunk to 50 feet, barreled the plane two miles to Boca Chica field without further mishap.

Lake City Seniors Pick Class Speaker

LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special)—James Carlson was chosen class speaker for graduation at Lincoln High School this spring as plans were made for the annual prom at a joint meeting of seniors and juniors Tuesday.

Principal James Hanson discussed where and when the prom would be held. The classes decided the executive committee should make the decision. Last year's prom was at the Terrace Supper Club.

ST. CHARLES SPEAKER

ST. CHARLES, Minn. (Special)—"America is More Than a Country" was the subject of Salom Rizk, author of "The Syrian Yankee" in talks at the St. Charles High School auditorium and the Lions Club Monday. An American citizen by birth but raised in the Syrian hills by his grandmother during World War I, he told of his experiences in getting back to America, which he described as "a precious place of freedom and opportunity." Rizk is on an extensive tour of the Upper Midwest.

Corvair by Chevrolet

The beauty of it, of course, goes deeper than the things you don't get. There's the other side of the coin—what you do get in their place.

Take the no window post, for example. What you do get is hardtop styling—with curved frameless side windows—in every Corvair closed model.

The transmission and driveline hump you don't get means more foot room. Thanks to Corvair's rear engine, the floor is practically flat.

No radiator—the engine's air-cooled—also means no water, no antifreeze and no hose leaks to worry about. All of which add up to some more important pluses.

Power steering? Power brakes? Corvair needs them like a centipede needs crutches. With most of the engine weight on the rear wheels, the front ones are free to steer easily. And stops are quick and sure—with no nosediving.

Broad Aspects of Americanism Cited For Legion Auxiliary by N. E. Indall

The American Legion Auxiliary to Leon J. Weitzel Post 9 Tuesday night heard Norman Indall, chairman of the social science department at Winona Senior High School, on the subject of Americanism, both as related to Legion activities and as a working part of every citizen's life.

MR. INDALL, who said "there is a wide and varied program of Americanism in the Legion and Auxiliary", went on to enumerate some of the major activities. He stressed the importance of the Legion and Auxiliary-sponsored Boys State and Girls State, which affords teenagers an opportunity to familiarize themselves with state government; and Boys and Girls County, a one-day excursion to county offices by juniors in May, which offers a similar chance for acquaintance with county affairs.

Mr. Indall, who is also local and district chairman for the Legion Oratorical contests, explained the useful function of this yearly event held on a nation-wide basis, which offers a $4,000 scholarship as the prize on the national level.

He gave the date for the Minnesota First District contest, which will be held in Winona, Feb. 20 at 2 p.m. at the YMCA. He said that 12 entrants have already signed to compete. All contestants must prepare an eight to ten minute oration on the Constitution. Also they are called upon for an extemporaneous speech on some phase of the Constitution, for which they get 5 minutes for preparation after assignment of the topics.

THE Americanization classes to assist aliens in which Mr. Indall plays a major role locally were discussed by the speaker as was the presentation by the Legion medals to a high school boy and girl graduate.

"Important as all these Legion Americanism activities are," said Mr. Indall, "they are still only a narrow part of the broad aspect of Americanism". He emphasized the constant and growing need for a well-informed citizenry, stressed the importance of everyone reading and understanding the Constitution and expressed concern about misconceptions of law based on ignorance or misinterpretation of legal facts.

He spoke briefly of the Bill of Rights and the freedoms which it guarantees and said "Is freedom just for you or is it for others too? Analyze yourself, express yourself, but let others express their opinions too".

Bootlegging On Resort Liquor Cited

ST. PAUL (AP) — Bootleggers are being created "out of good, honest people" because of Minnesota's current law on liquor licenses at resorts, Rep. Fred Cina of Aurora contends.

The legislator argued Wednesday before the Senate Liquor Control Committee that the ban on licenses at resorts makes law violators out of resorters trying to compete for business with Wisconsin, Michigan and Canadian resorts. The House committee also held a similar hearing.

Cina testified in support of a bill that would permit counties to issue on-sale liquor licenses to established resorts for the six months between May and October. Opponents of the bill will be heard next Wednesday.

"This should have been passed long ago if we are to be a leading tourist state," Cina said.

Resorters testifying in both committees said convention business is now bypassing Minnesota resorts because they cannot provide bar service.

"We're not asking for a grant, we're not asking for a loan," said Joe Rutger of Pequot Lakes, member of the well-known northern Minnesota resort family. "We're asking for permission to provide full service to our guests."

The bill would permit issuance of licenses only to resorts with sleeping and dining room accommodations for 30 persons or more. And resorts would have had to be licensed for at least three years.

Supporters said only 113 of the 4,000 Minnesota resorts would qualify at present.

Duluth Man Shot by Deputy

MINONG, Wis. (AP)—Reuben Stammen, 30, Duluth, Minn., was listed in serious condition in a Spooner, Wis., hospital Wednesday night after being shot in the chest.

Washburn County Sheriff Arnold Drost said Stammen was shot by deputy sheriff Ellrey Coons, 47, Tuesday night in the Coons home here.

No charge has been filed. The sheriff said Stammen hit Coons, and during a scuffle Stammen was shot.

Voyageurs Park Hearing Called

ST. PAUL (AP) — A public hearing on the proposed Voyageurs National Park will be held by the Minnesota Outdoor Recreation Resources Commission at 3:30 p.m. Monday in the state office building auditorium.

Sen. Henry Harren of Albany, MORRIS chairman, said the federal proposal probably also will entail action by the Minnesota Legislature. Chairmen of numerous legislative committees will attend.

The park has been proposed for the Kabetogama Peninsula, along the Canadian border east of International Falls.

The proposal by the National Park Service has run into opposition by owners of lakeshore property in the area, and by persons fearful that the area's wood-cutting economy might be damaged. Others have said the new park would be a shot in the arm for northern Minnesota economy.

New Airport Ready, Airline Urged to Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — Outagamie County, Wis., said Tuesday its new Greenville airport, five miles west of Appleton, is ready for use and "entirely adequate in all respects" for any type of aircraft now operated by North Central Airlines.

The county, in a brief to the Civil Aeronautics Board, said the 5,200-foot concrete runway, new terminal building and large hangar are in every respect much more suitable for use than its old Grand Chute airfield.

Outagamie County said it expects all private and commercial flying except North Central's to move to the new $2.25 million airport when it is opened.

The county said it can ill afford to maintain and operate two airports, and it would be an "unconscionable burden" to require maintenance of an antiquated airport for the special use of North Central.

Outagamie said it had even offered to indemnify North Central for any reasonable expenses incurred in moving operations from the old airport to the new one.

The county submitted correspondence showing that North Central had refused to provide an itemized statement of moving costs because North Central "does not plan to move and sees no useful purpose in such an analysis."

North Central also notified the county that closing the old airport before a final decision by the Circuit Court of Appeals, on Outagamie's appeal from a CAB airport service consolidation order, would be contrary to CAB wishes as expressed last Jan. 21.

The county asked the board for an interpretation of its rights and for a clarification of the Jan. 21 order.

The Outagamie appeal was from a CAB order of Nov. 24 designating Appleton and Oshkosh as the single point Oshkosh-Appleton, to be served by North Central through the Winnebago County Airport at Oshkosh.

In a supplemental order Jan. 21 reaffirming its action but granting a stay pending outcome of the court appeal, the CAB noted that if Outagamie County closed the existing airport, North Central would be forced either to suspend Appleton service or to transfer that service to Winnebago County Airport or the new Outagamie Airport.

The Jan. 21 order added that the CAB expressed no opinion on the action it might take regarding requests that might be filed under such circumstances.

North Central has contended that Outagamie must continue operating the old airport pending outcome of its appeal.

true," said Quigley. "It is true that the buck stops with me. Some decisions must be made by me."

"But we could point out to you that by careful analysis of requests we have been able to save considerable amounts of money."

Pepin Presents Case for Rail Crossing Signal

DURAND, Wis. (Special) — Two representatives of the village of Pepin population 840, testified to the need of flashing red signals at the Lake Street crossing over the two Burlington Railroad tracks at a Public Service Commission hearing at the courthouse here Wednesday morning.

Questioned by Roger Hartman, Alma, village attorney, were Berthel Nelson, village president the last 10 years, and Charles Eichelberger, who operates a boat livery in summer and works at Northwestern Manufacturing Co., Pepin, in winter.

THEY were cross-examined by Roger Sheehan, La Crosse, railroad attorney, who also questioned Franklin E. Gray, Onalaska, trainmaster for the railroad's La Crosse division the last 14 years, and D. H. Thompson, Chicago, assistant chief signal engineer. A representative of the PSC presided.

Nelson testified there has been no accident at the crossing, although there have been close calls.

He said the village particularly needs the protection now because of the 650- by 350-foot boat harbor which will be dredged out and built there this spring. A contract for the work has been let to River Construction Co. of La Crosse by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, he said.

Pepin residents and tourists, coming into town on Highway 35, the Great River Road, will need to cross the tracks to get to the harbor, he said.

People in town using the railroad depot have to cross the tracks, he said, the section crew has its headquarters on the Lake Pepin side, in summer about 120 swimmers cross there to the bathing beach daily, and in winter they cross for skating.

Nelson said there are about 112 boats in the area, including craft belonging to commercial fishermen.

ECKELBERGER said 304 people used his tourist rooms between April 1 and the end of October last year. He said the track curves at that point so vision is about two blocks each way, up and down the river. The harbor, which will be built to hold 112 boats, also will have a service dock for gasoline and bait, and there'll be a bathhouse. He said no gasoline trucks cross the tracks at this time, but they will when the harbor is installed.

Also present were Manfred Reim, Pepin hotel operator, and Walter Hartman, grocer, who is a member of the County Board of Supervisors.

Gray said eight passenger trains, four each way, and three freight trains, three each way, travel over the tracks daily, with probably an extra freight Monday through Friday.

He said freight trains travel through Pepin at about 40 m.p.h. and passenger trains, about 50 m.p.h. He said the curve cuts vision; there are sometimes cars on sidetracks for unloading; at present the crossing is marked only by a crossarms sign, trains make no scheduled stops in Pepin, and only the Burlington uses the tracks.

THOMPSON, 21 years with the company, said flashing red lights and arms at the crossing that would automatically drop on the approach of trains would cost $23,800 and would be serviceable about 35 years. Maintenance would be about $1,100 a year.

He said the train now blows a whistle going through Pepin and would continue to do so if the signals were put in.

The hearing adjourned at 11 a.m. The commission decision will come later.

Woman Left Bound, Gagged For 3 Days

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP) — A small, but sturdy 74-year-old farm woman lay for three days on her kitchen floor, her wrists and ankles bound tightly with binder twine by burglars who ransacked her house.
Although she went without food and water, Miss Bernice Brown said she was not hungry when she was found. Authorities had to persuade her to seek medical attention.
"I'd have to be worse off than this to go to the hospital," said the 118-pound spinster who has lived alone on a small farm five miles from here most of her life.
Miss Brown is in fair condition in a hospital today.
She was found late Tuesday by a nephew, John Henry Brown.

Lake Shore Property Taxes Hit

ST. PAUL (AP) — Soaring taxes on lakeshore property are hurting the "ordinary" people that own most of the cottages, the House Tax Committee was told Tuesday.

The committee heard proponents of a bill to reduce assessments on both resort and cottage property, with additional hearings slated later. The Senate Tax Committee hearing on the bill was due this afternoon.

"Our cabins are not owned by the rich people," said Rep. Fred Cina of Aurora. "The ordinary people who save up to buy a modest cabin are finding it almost impossible to keep them."
Cina and others said lakeshore properties do not demand the governmental services that other owners do.

"They don't use the educational and welfare programs but that's where most of their taxes go," said Ambrose Kotschade of Coon Rapids, president of the Lakeshore Property Owners League.

Kotschade said his group doesn't want to be taxed lower than others — but in proportion to the governmental services it uses.

The bill would reduce the assessment rate on resorts from 40 per cent of full and true value to 33 1/3 per cent, and on cottage property from 33 1/3 to 20 per cent.

"This is just as important for the whole state as the taconite bill was for northeastern Minnesota," said Richard Silvola of Virginia, a former state representative.

New Attempt To End Dock Strike Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special White House committee presses today for an end to the month-long strike that has tied up shipping on the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts at an estimated $6-billion loss to the nation's economy.

President Johnson appointed the three-man committee Wednesday and ordered it to report to him by noon Friday. He said the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association was "totally unjustified" in continuing the strike in ports where settlement has been reached.

Union President Thomas W. Gleason has held fast to the longshoremen's policy that none of the 60,000 men will return to work until agreement is reached at all ports.

"If we went back to work we would be sacrificing our union and we don't intend to do this," Gleason said.

The presidential committee composed of Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor and Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., will hear from both sides in the still unsettled Miami, Fla., and Galveston, Tex., negotiations.

In Philadelphia Wednesday night Federal Mediator John R. Murray announced a settlement had been reached between two longshoremen's locals and the city's Marine Trade Association. Talks continue between the association and two other locals while a fifth local, the largest, delayed voting on a pact reached Sunday until all the smaller locals settle.

Johnson said the union's refusal to go back to work in New York and other ports where settlements have been reached amounts to unreasonable pressure on negotiations elsewhere.

Army Units Quell India Student Riots

MADRAS, India (AP) — Indian army units moved into Madras and eight outlying cities today to help police combat language rioting which has claimed 32 lives.

Bloody battles raged throughout Madras State as thousands of students opposing Hindi as India's official language attacked trains and fought police. The Madras government said "substantial and heavy" units of the army had been brought in.

In Madras City, the state capital on the shore of the Bay of Bengal, students and police battled on train platforms. Most trains were canceled or delayed for hours.

Students swarmed over the engine of the Indo-Ceylon Express and kicked crewmen onto the tracks.

Finance Minister T. T. Krishnamachari arrived in Madras to appeal to the students. Officials closed all colleges and high schools in the state until March 1.

These students have ignored all pleas, ever, from fanatic anti-Hindi groups and organizations struggling for an independent Tamil-speaking nation, and many have gone on looting sprees.

Twenty-three persons were killed by the police Wednesday, 10 of them in Kumarapalayam. Officers there opened fire on a crowd of 10,000 demonstrators.

Two police inspectors were burned to death by a frenzied mob in Tiruppur.

At least 36 persons were injured.

PEASANTS ON MOVE

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — One out of every 12 Greek peasants moved to the city in the past ten years, the agricultural bank of Greece reported.

Washington Calling Viet Military Shots

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the strange new kind of war being fought in Viet Nam, detailed military shots are being called in Washington as never before in history.

This is because each military move against the Communists outside the borders of South Viet Nam is loaded with potential for bringing on a big-scale war.

In pre-atomic days, military commanders directed military operations once the fighting began. This was true in Korea, too, although a decision against carrying the war north of the Yalu into Red China was made by President Harry S. Truman.

The objective was to keep a tight reign on military moves, to tailor the response to the threat, and to limit any clash to the lowest level possible.

The aim was to minimize the danger of accidental war, to prevent a situation from getting out of hand and escalating into general war — into a war that might lead ultimately to a dreaded nuclear exchange.

Thus, the command and control system was built up to an extent never before achieved — and the reins of that system led to the highest levels of the Pentagon and White House. Development of that system had started earlier, but was accelerated by McNamara.

One practical application of tightened civilian control over military operations was seen in the 1962 Cuban missile crisis.

During last summer's Gulf of Tonkin shooting incident and again last weekend when the Communists attacked a U.S. compound and airfield near Pleiku, the Joint Chiefs of Staff recommended a list of targets for retaliation and the method of attacking them. President Johnson, McNamara and the National Security Council accepted the basic recommendations of the chiefs.

DEAR ABBY:

Better Bow Out With This Girl

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Mona and I are college seniors and have been dating steadily since the beginning of this term. I like her a lot and could be serious about her. Last Saturday night we went to a university-sponsored swimming party. When Mona saw me in my swimming trunks, she looked disgusted. I'm no Adonis, but I'm no bag of bones either. Mona suggested leaving early and while we were driving home she said, "You embarrassed me to death. Why didn't you tell me you were hirsute?" I asked her what that meant and she said, "Anyone having excess hair on his body is hirsute. Why don't you shave the hair off your back and shoulders?" I asked, sarcastically, "How about the hair on my chest?" She said, "Oh, that's all right. It's accepted. The other isn't." Is her request whacky, or is she right, Abby? A man doesn't know much about these things.

TIM

DEAR TIM: If Mona doesn't want you, hair and all, bow out and figure your brush with her was a close shave.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is 17, a senior in high school and a compulsive letter-writer. Last year she wrote to a freshman boy at the state university every day without fail. She'd be writing him at 6:30 in the morning, and also past midnight she sat writing page after page. (She'd get maybe a one-page letter from him every other week. Once I read some of the stuff she wrote (trying to get a clue as to how serious it was) and it was the biggest bunch of nothing I ever read. She is just a fair student, but if she spent half the time on her school work that she spends on those letters she would be much better. She writes a fellow in the Navy she doesn't even know. She got his address from a girl friend. Every lunch hour she spends a dime calling home to see if she got any mail. What on earth is wrong with the girl? You may print your answer. She never reads your column and gets mad if I suggest it.

ABBY

DEAR TEXAN: Apparently your daughter needs the outlet that letter-writing offers her. But I think she's overdoing it. Insist that she spend more time on her studies, and write letters in her "spare" time.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem that is keeping me awake nights. My husband grinds his teeth in his sleep. Is there anything I can do to cure him of it? When I hear him grinding his teeth, I pat him gently on the jaw. He awakens for a few moments and stops, but the minute he falls back to sleep again he continues to grind his teeth just like before. I don't suppose this will ruin our marriage, but I wish I knew how to help him.

SAN MATEO

DEAR SAN MATEO: Your marriage may survive all that teeth grinding, but your husband's teeth may not. Urge him to see his dentist before he grinds himself into a diet of crackers and milk.

CONFIDENTIAL TO STEVE: The dictionary is the only place where success comes before work.

Problems? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

BILL MERRILL'S
Something to Live By

Fear is a strange emotion. The lack of it can be fool-hardy. Yet, all too often one is foolish to fear. Today we will discuss some foolish fears from the past, and reflect their relationship to the future.

Humans like to play with their emotions at times. Take fear, for example. I remember one Halloween when a man who owned the neighborhood sweet shop decided to have some fun with some of the older boys in the area — particularly one. He loaded us all in his car and drove over the bluff siding road near the cemetery. He offered one of the bigger boys a reward if he would walk up into the cemetery alone to a certain monument and back.

Remember — this was Halloween, and even this big boy had allowed the idea of ghosts and goblins to get through to him. He might have made it if the gang hadn't gotten in the car and driven off, leaving him alone. Down the road he came. Fear, built out of imagination, cloaked in the atmosphere of darkness in a cemetery, broke his will as he admitted he was afraid.

OVER 150 YEARS ago, a man in Paris took off in a balloon full of gas, and I wager fear was felt in such a first-time attempt. But he must have overcome it with what knowledge he had of what was going on. On the other hand, about the same time a German fixed two wheels, one behind the other, in a wooden frame and sped along the roads on it. Now I don't know if the police were afraid of this apparatus or not, but I understand they did not approve of it and the machine was banned. Fear of progress might be listed among the examples of foolish fears.

It's so easy to look back and laugh at the fears of the generations before us. The spinning Jenny was just such a case. A man by the name of Hargreaves invented it to ease his wife's work. Handicraftsmen became frightened of losing their jobs, and this fear moved them to violence as they smashed the machine. Foolish, we say. But only because we have knowledge — they didn't have.

When you stop to analyze fear, it seems that it's made up of the lack of knowledge, or consists of absolute knowledge. Let me explain. What man doesn't understand, leaves much to imagination, and imagination lends itself to fear.

ON THE OTHER hand, knowledge can give cause to fear. If you know a volcano is about to erupt, there's little reason to ignore it. It's just that we live in a remarkable age of order.

Life itself is not necessarily fearful unless we consider panic over nuclear war heads and emotional stress, the building of war clouds, and the race to the moon. But the answer to this is knowledge — knowledge of our Creator, of life itself, developed into faith, hope, and understanding. If you know you have cause to fear, it can be a redeeming factor, but fear without cause is most useless and can be damaging.

So take courage. It's the stuff that tempers life. Expel foolish fear — it's the stuff that destroys life.

Students Protest Viet Nam Raids

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — An estimated 400 students took part Wednesday in a rally on the University of Minnesota campus in protest against U.S. air intervention in North Viet Nam.

The rally, which lasted about an hour, was called by the Young Socialist Alliance, a campus political group, but the participants were about equally divided, for and against intervention.

Among placards carried by demonstrators was one stating "End the War in Viet Nam," and another "Attack Now — avoid the Russians."

Redmen Face Arch-Rival Tommies in Gymnasium Inaugural

By GARY EVANS

Daily News Sports Editor

When St. Mary's and St. Thomas get together for any type of sports activity, you can sit back and expect a dog-eat-dog battle to the end.

Tonight's basketball contest at Terrace Heights signals even more than the usual rivalry. The Redmen will christen their $750,000 gymnasium during the 8 o'clock game, Tom Skemp, former St. Mary's basketball and football coach, tossing the first ball.

In addition, St. Mary's seeks the start of a win string and an end to the Tommies'.

St. Thomas, riding the crest of a four-game streak that carried it to a 58-50 conquest of defending champion Augsburg

Monday, is expected to offer as severe a challenge for the expected capacity crowd to witness as it did Jan. 9 in the Twin Cities.

It was in that game that a field goal by Rog Pylewski with 2:21 to play in the game allowed St. Mary's a 65-63 victory, its third in the league.

Now the Redmen are 7-4, their first-place hopes all but erased in a 57-53 overtime loss at Concordia Monday night. The Tommies are 6-5 and hungry for a tie with their rival hilloppers.

The St. Mary's cast will be the same. George Hoder will open at center with Rog Pylewski and George Valaska at center and Mike Maloney and Jerry Sauer at guards. Jim Buffo is the sixth man. Coach Ken Willgen doesn't like to go beyond that.

While Augsburg appears to have zeroed in on the conference title with a 10-1 record and six games remaining, the Redmen must win now to sew up second.

The club is deluged with Gustavus and Duluth for the runnerup spot with five league games remaining.

Pylewski summed up the team's feelings on the way home from Concordia by saying: "If we can't have first, we certainly want second."

Three Tommies gave the Redmen trouble in the first meeting. Dan Hansard was the chief villain with 26 points while Fred Korbe and Tom Rauh got 13 each.

For St. Mary's, the winning formula has been short and simple: Balanced scoring and a tough man-to-man defense.

Tonight's game ranks as the only action of the night in the Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. It originally was scheduled for Saturday night, but was moved up two days because of the St. Mary's hockey team's scheduled game with the Air Force Academy at Rochester's Mayo Civic Auditorium Saturday night.

On the season, St. Mary's holds a 15-6 record.

Top Games Dot Area Cage Scene

Several top games are available on the area prep cage scene Friday night.

Among the best to watch will be the Gilmanton at Alma contest in the West Central league. Reason? Well, in the first meeting between the two clubs, the Panthers, coached by John Ewing, played a slowdown type of game and the Rivermen won by only 25-17.

It isn't known if the Panthers will employ their slowdown tactics on the larger Alma floor this time around, for Ewing couldn't be reached for comment.

THE RIVERMEN and Coach Greg Green will be firing for their 15th consecutive win of the season. Alma is 7-0 in West Central Conference play.

Green has a combination of men he can fit into his starting rotation, but will probably go with Larry Kriebich, Mike Moham, Dick Ebersold, Dave Antrim, John Stohr or Brian Kriebich. Gilmanton is expected to counter with Jerry Dieckman, Doug and Wayne Loomis, Jim Dieckman and Dave Denzer.

At Holmen Dean Uhls' unbeaten Vikings must test Bangor Friday without the services of 7-2 Eino Hendrickson.

Hendrickson, the biggest basketball player to hit Wisconsin prep ranks, had to sit out the Trempealeau tilt, which Holmen won thanks to Dan McHugh's 34 points, because of pneumonia.

"HE'S STILL SICK," said Uhls in reference to Eino. "I don't think he'll be able to play Friday because he's been getting sick in practice."

"The doctor said he can move around and could practice if he felt like it, but when he has practiced, he's been having trouble. So he won't play."

McHugh shot a fabulous 58 percent against Trempealeau last week. Can Uhls expect him to fill in for Eino again?

"I don't think I can expect anything that good again," said Uhls. "He just played tremendously against Trempealeau. It'll be tough for him to repeat that performance."

Going for Holmen will be McHugh, Ken Olson, Bob Anderson, Alan Knudson and Eric Hanson. For Bangor, which has been a sometimes-up, sometimes-down squad this year, it will be Lee Friell, Gary Blaschki, Dale Vogel, Terry Muenzenberger and Les Muenzenberger.

IN THE DAIRYLAND Conference, Eleva-Strum can wrap up a tie for the title with a win over Augusta on the Beavers' court.

The Cardinals, coached by Dick Salava, tripped Independence Tuesday. Osseo is at Alma Center in another game.

Zumbrota and Kasson-Mantorville should have a real battle on the Ko-Mets' court Friday, for K-M knocked off top-dog Lake City last Friday creating a first place tie between the two teams carrying Tiger nicknames. K-M is in fourth place with a 6-4 record and could create quite a knot before the title is finally decided.

Lake City, the other top team in the Hiawatha Valley, is at home against hapless St. Charles.

Wabasha St. Felix could wrap up the Bi-State title with a win over Rollingstone Holy Trinity. The Yellowjackets tripped Lima Sacred Heart for a title tie Wednesday night.

IN THE ROOT RIVER Conference, both title contenders are in action. Rushford hosts Caledonia, while Canton travels to Spring Grove.

Rushford is 7-2 and Spring Grove 6-3 on the year. The title probably won't be decided for a few more weeks, as there are three more Root River games on tap after Friday.

HUWALD WINS IN LIGHTWEIGHT DIVISION

Van Hoof Off to Upper Midwest

ROCHESTER, Minn. — One of the scheduled middleweight finalists in the Golden Gloves preliminary tournament to Upper Midwest activity held here Wednesday is happy, perhaps—but it isn't champion Tom Van Hoof of Winona.

Troubled by injuries and lack of opponents all season long, Van Hoof eyed the Rochester tournament as a chance to remove some of the rust accumulated over what has been a jinxed season.

A DOCTOR'S decree turned the middleweight championship match into a default victory for Van Hoof, who will leave for Minneapolis today with coaches John Bell and Jim Mullen.

"The big thing is that I'm a little bit rusty," said Van Hoof this morning. "What I need now is to be seeded and get an easier fight in the first round."

The tall, black-haired Cotter High School student with the lightning fists is accustomed to championships.

In the Golden Gloves program he has won regional titles at lightweight, welterweight and now middleweight in a four-year career.

HE WAS ONE of two Winonans to win trips to the Upper Midwest tournament, which gets under way in the Minneapolis Auditorium Friday and concludes Saturday.

Lee Huwald, defending his championship in the lightweight division came through with a decision over Chatfield's Roy Sutherland in the finals. He won't compete in the Upper Midwest this year, however.

Rochester's Firemen lifted the team crown from Winona by scoring 28 points to 16 each for Winona and Chatfield, five for Caledonia and three for Austin.

Van Hoof got his start in the program four years ago by wandering into the boxing practice area.

"LEE HUWALD'S brother, Duane, got me started, and once he did, I didn't have much time to think about it," he recalled. "I had four or five quick fights, won my first five and that was it. Then Jim Mullen started training me."

Van Hoof makes the trip to the Twin Cities full of confidence.

"I feel I have the stuff to go through the middleweight division," he said. "I have to get rid of the rustiness though. I've only had about one and a half fights this year. I was in a car accident around Christmas time and then I had a shoulder injury."

VON HOOF will have plenty of support from home. In addition to mom and dad, four brothers and three sisters will be rooting.

In other action at Rochester Wednesday, Huwald had to win his way into the lightweight finals with a decision over Chatfield's Wayne Crowson. Winona's Gordy Hess also won the novice lightweight championship with a decision over John Johnson of Chatfield.

Jim Donlinger, a Winona State College student and a standout heavyweight, was unopposed in the tournament finals and will represent the Rochester area in the Upper Midwest meet. He competed for the championship Firemen.

St. Mary's Gym: Well-lighted, Colorful, Comfortable

First Completed Part Of Activities Complex

GYMNASIUM . . . The new St. Mary's College gymnasium features three full-size basketball courts, with the two outside court floors done in vinyl asbestos and the center, or varsity court, in maple. The three are divided by electrically operated coil wall doors with wood facing. With the doors closed, each is soundproof. The bleachers, which pull out from the walls, will seat 2,700 spectators. The roof is supported by large laminated beams with a tectum deck. The gymnasium contains six foldup baskets and a sound system that also extends to some rooms in the full basement.

THE gleaming new $750,000 St. Mary's College gymnasium — the first completed portion of the student activities complex which will also include a student union and auditorium-theater — will be used by the college basketball team for the first time tonight when the Redmen host St. Thomas.

The exterior of the 176- by 174-foot structure is done in Manitowish stone. Included in the building is a modern foyer, which appears larger than the Heffron Hall gymnasium, used for 43 years.

The gymnasium itself is made up of three full-size basketball courts, the outside two floored with vinyl asbestos tile and the center court in maple. The bleachers (20 rows on one side, 12 on the other) will seat 2,700 spectators comfortably.

The full basement includes four handball courts, visitors' faculty, intra-mural, varsity basketball and varsity baseball and hockey locker room and shower facilities as well as two classrooms, three offices, training, laundry, wrestling and weight training rooms as well as storage areas.

The building also has a freight elevator which will be used extensively during the construction of the union and auditorium-theater.

Architect for the project was W. Smith and Associates, Winona. The general contractor was P. Earl Schwab, Winona. The heating, plumbing and ventilating contract was held by American Plumbing and Heating Co., Winona, the electrical contract by Schammel Electric, Austin, and the elevator contract by Otis Elevator, Minneapolis.

PANELS HIGHLIGHT ENTRANCE . . . to the gymnasium are of aluminum construction. Featuring mosaic tile panels, the entrances

SHOWER, LOCKER, INTRA-MURAL FACILITIES . . . Well-lighted, colorful and convenient is the best description of the behind-the-scenes gymnasium facilities. The shower room (left) features ceramic tile floor with structural glazed tile walls and plastered ceiling. The columns contain five shower heads. The locker room (center) has a sealed concrete floor with steel lockers and exposed concrete pan construction ceiling. The intra-mural room (right) also features the exposed concrete ceiling. The checkout window is used for indoor equipment while double back doors will be used to check out hockey equipment, toboggans and skis.

ULTRA-MODERN FOYER . . . A unique shadow block wall design is the outstanding feature of the ultra-modern foyer. The floor is terrazzo with the ceiling metal acoustical pan type construction and the suspended light fixtures done in blue, green and orange.

MARKED CONTRAST . . . Presenting a contrast to the well-lighted, colorful and roomy new St. Mary's gymnasium are these views of the Heffron Hall addition. As you can see, the crowded basketball hall, hockey locker room and shower facilities won't be missed.
